Fish and Game Association

Didsbury decides to form Local Branch.

Following up an invitation received from the Calgary Fish and Game Association, a meeting was held in the C.P.R. rooms here on Monday night to consider the formation of a Didsbury branch. There were about fifteen present, and considerable interest was displayed in the proceedings.

With Jim McGhee acting as chairman, the meeting was called to order, and it was agreed by those present to form themselves into a temporary committee.

Discussing the election of officers the meeting decided to confine these to a president, two vice-presidents, and an executive consisting of the president, two vice-presidents, secretary, and nine members. The latter to be appointed as nearly as possible, three from town, and west and east of the track equally represented.

The by-laws were adopted with a minor change as framed at Calgary.

On motion of W. Davies, the chairman was requested to write Mr. Green, of the Calgary Fish and Game Association, stating that Didsbury could give a definite order for 100 eggs, and ask whether it would be possible for Didsbury to obtain these.

The meeting then adjourned till April 18, when another meeting will be held to elect the officers.

Among those at the meeting who agreed to purchase eggs were W. Davies, E. Sharnan, Geo. Julien, C. F. Dooley, J. McGhee, W. Astell, Geo. Lunt, Bert Cressman, and J. W. Phillipson.

Objects of the Association

1. This organization shall be known as the Didsbury branch of the Alberta Game and Fish Protective League.

2. The officers shall be as follows: President, two vice presidents, secretary-treasurer, and a Committee of nine members.

Objects

3. To act as a voluntary auxiliary force to aid the constituted authorities in the protection and preservation of all Fish and Game in this province.

4. The organized observation of the habits, propagation and seasons of all fish, game and game birds, and from the knowledge so obtained the suggestion to the authorities of the best regulations for their preservation and increase, and the introduction of such new species as may be deemed advisable.

5. To encourage the protection of the song, insectivorous, and other birds not classed as game birds, and to educate the children, especially boys, accordingly.

6. To assist the constituted authorities in the destruction of magpie, crows and other natural enemies of the song, insectivorous and game birds.

7. To investigate through its membership any causes of loss of fish such as pollution of streams from sewerage or other deleterious matter and to make recommendations to the existing authorities for attention to abuses and to erect or cause to be erected, passage ways suitable for free passage of fish over dams, weirs, or other artificial obstacles in streams, rivers, creeks or any waters inhabited by game fish.

8. To produce a widespread sentiment towards the continued preservation of those districts already set aside as game domains, and where possible, still further the extension of this system.

9. To foster among sportsmen and others making use of rural roadways ordinary care to closing of gates and particular attention to camp fires being carefully

Price of Eggs.

The Calgary Fish and Game Association is prepared to order pheasant eggs or young pheasants for any individual, or for any association, interested in pheasant stocking in Alberta.

The eggs, which will be shipped about the middle of May, will cost $3 a dozen at Calgary. Purchasers will pay this price plus the express charges from Calgary. A setting is usually 18 or 20 eggs, but a dozen will serve if necessary.

Since the meeting in Didsbury on Monday night other requests for eggs have been received, and the local association has now enough orders to justify a consignment of two hundred eggs being sent from Calgary.

If there are others interested in getting these eggs, they can procure them by applying to the secretary, W. P. Cotton at the Pioneer office.

Canada's Agricultural Wealth
In a recent article on Canada, Irving Fisher, Professor of Economics, Yale University, stated in commenting on agriculture in the Dominion "Canada is increasing her agricultural wealth. Farm production amounting to $1,700,000,000 during 1927, was accompanied by the second largest wheat crop. Montreal, handling about 400,000,000 bushels during the navigation season, claims first position among the grain ports of the world."

A WONDERFUL TRIBUTE

Baby's Own Tablets Declared To Be Worth Their Weight In Gold

A mother has only to use Baby's Own Tablets once to be convinced that nothing else can equal them in banishing the ills of her little ones. Once used, always used, as long as there are small children in the home—that is the tribute thousands of mothers pay the Tablets.

Among the many, many mothers who are anxious to tell of their experience with Baby's Own Tablets is Mrs. Griffith, of East Hamilton, Ont., who writes:—"Shortly after coming to Canada I began giving the Tablets to my baby boy who was then six weeks old. The result was so pleasing that since that time I have always kept the Tablets in the house. I have two children now and both of them are the picture of health. Baby's Own Tablets are the only medicine they have ever had and I really believe the Tablets to be worth their weight in gold."

Baby's Own Tablets are free from all injurious drugs and can be given to the youngest babe with absolute safety. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The normal atmospheric pressure on the body at sea level is 14.7 pounds per square inch.

The Poor Man's Friend.—Put up in small bottles that are easily portable and sold for a very small sum. Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil possesses power in concentrated form. Its cheapness and the varied uses to which it can be put make it the poor man's friend. No dealer's stock is complete without it.

Were it not for a man's faults he might live and die without ever hearing his name mentioned.

WAS VERY WEAK NERVOUS AND MELANCHOLY

Mrs. Geo. McKenzie, Campbellford, Ont., writes:—"A short time ago I was troubled very badly with my heart and nerves, the cause of it, I think, was my going through the change of life."

"I was very weak and melancholy, and so nervous I could hardly bear to hear a clock ticking, and I did not sleep well."

"I was advised to try so I sent at once for a box; took them and got another, and before they were all gone I felt good, my nerves are fine, I do not mind any noise, and I can sleep well. I cannot recommend them too highly to those suffering as I did."

Small Town Papers

BY FRANK PARKER STOCKBRIDGE
Reprinted by special permission from Saturday Evening Post. Copyright 1928, by the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia.

"So they were," he answered. "I was raised on the farm, but I never liked it. That's why I came down to New York in the first place. And when dad died I sold the farm and bought the paper—the old Middleboro Gazette. Couldn't get the virus of printer's ink out of my system."

I waited for Bert to go on, but he said nothing more in response to my question.

"I meant your gold mine," I ventured after a moment of silence. "What sort of business have you been in? You seem to have been successful."

Bert looked at me with a puzzled expression, as if he thought I was trying to kid him. "Why, I just told you," he said. "I bought the Middleboro Gazette."

I saw at once that I must have seemed stupid to Bert. Some big industry had picked Middleboro for its plant and made the country village into a big city, as the General Electric did at Schenectady. But for the life of me I couldn't remember which industry it was. Middleboro? I couldn't think of anything to connect the name of the town with. But I didn't let on to Bert.

"Oh, I see," I responded cheerfully. "And as the town grew big enough for a daily you grew with it, eh? Fine! What's your population now, anyway?"

"About the same as it always has been; maybe a little less," he answered. "Around 2,000. But we've got a circulation of more than 3,000. Not so bad for a country weekly, what? Be a long time before Middleboro will need a daily, if any."

"Hold on a minute, Bert," I gasped. "Let me get this straight. You've been right there in Middleboro for twenty years, running a country weekly in a town of 2,000 people, and now you've retired on your income and your wife goes shopping in Fifth Avenue and—Oh, what's the use? I just can't seem to get this straight. If I hadn't known you as well as I used to, I'd think you were trying to put one over on me. Do you mean to tell me that anybody ever made that much money, or any money more than a bare living, and a poor one at that, out of a country weekly? You must have some property besides that, Bert."

"I have now, of course," He grinned back at me. "Naturally I've made investments, same as any business man does with his surplus. I've got a block of stock in the Middleboro National and some shares in the creamery and the cold-storage plant, and a few pieces of business property in the town, and one thing and another of that sort. But it all came out of the Gazette in the first place, and all I had to start with was the $3,000 mother and I got for the farm after dad died. Of course, I've plowed a lot of the profits back into the paper—have to keep a newspaper plant up to date, you know. It'll inventory now—the plant—around $25,000, and the building's worth another $10,000; goodwill and all, I wouldn't take $50,000 for the Gazette. It earns now around 40 per cent, on that figure, and you've no idea how far $20,000 a year will go in a town the size of Middleboro."

"It'll go a long way in New York," I conceded. "What's gets me, though, Bert, is the idea that there's any such money, or the half of it, to be made out of any country weekly paper, anywhere, any time. As my old Yankee granddad used to say, it beats my time. You're sure you're making that out of the paper, not out of the job-printing business?"

I must give Bert credit for being good-natured. He always was; and besides, he'd always liked me in the old days and he knew I liked him a lot. Some men would have got mad to be questioned that way, but he knew I was friendly and interested.

"The job-printing business accounts for about a quarter of it," he said, answering my latter question first. "Job printing's a minor item in a modern country newspaper office instead of being the main reliance, as it used to be. It's a specialty that hasn't got anything really to do with making a newspaper. Fact is, my younger boy—they're both with me in the business now, running the shop—the younger one, Joe, has got an idea he could do better with the job plant if he had it out under its own roof, and we're fixing now to incorporate that separately and let him see what he can make of it. But the old Gazette, standing alone on its own hind legs, has pulled down better than $15,000 a year net for me every year for the past five or six years, and it's getting better all the time."

"Yes, you're right," he went on. "It does beat your time. It's a new thing, this development of the country weekly into a remunerative industry, instead of a hazardous gamble, with the odds all against the editor and publisher, as it used to be. It wasn't any too easy the first few years I had the Gazette, though I always took down more than I needed to live on right from the start. And it isn't like taking candy from a baby now—get me right on that. A man's got to know the business and work at it same as any other business. But if he does that I don't know any business in the world that'll pay him so big a return on his investment or stand up so solidly under competition from outside or that's so hard to kill.

One night Professor Gazor, the great astronomer noticed through his telescope that various stars in one of the great constellations had different numbers of points to them. He was able to group these odd stars. This discovery so startled the scientific world that it was decided to find out what it all meant. After tremendous research it was decided that one of the planets was using this method to send the world an important message. By mathematical calculation Professor Gazor was able to decipher the message. His colleagues naturally wanted to know all about it, but he would not give them the message. He told them to work it out for themselves.

How He Did It

"You will notice," the professor told them, "some stars have three points, others four points, some five, or six points, etc. The number of points each star has determines what letter of the word of the message that star stands for. For instance if a star has three points it is the letter a. However, if it has four points it is either d, e, or f. Some stars represent only one letter, some 2 letters and some 3 letters. I have worked out the table code for you, now you count the number of points on each star and try to find what letter each star stands for, by referring to the table code. I have correctly arranged the stars so that each row of stars spells a word of the message. In order to help you a bit the first word is 'Greatest.'"

Thus appealed to, Danny Corbett went over to the couch and carefully inspected the young thing that was likely to make inroads in his hard earned income. He put his chapped and dirty little hand very lightly on the glassy, smooth head, and felt its tiny beat. He gently touched the velvety cheek and found it soft as a rose-leaf to his fingers. He put his hand in his pocket and drew out thirty cents in change and looked hard at it. He may have been thinking of cold winds and aching legs—he knew something of them. But his answer was, "Sure Mike! I'll do it. Are you pretty sure her mother will die, Ma?" Danny's tone was eager.

"We ain't wishin' her mother no harm, Ma," Rosie quickly interposed, seeing the rebuke that was coming to her business partner. "We ain't wishin' nobody no harm." Rosie was very anxious not to prejudice the case. "But we know there is always a danger—you know yourself, Ma, that none of us knows one day from another—we're here today and away tomorrow, as I have often heard you say—and Danny and me are just talkin' it over in case somethin' should happen—that's all."

The warm heart of Maggie Corbett was tender to her offspring at that moment. "Look at that, John, would you? Good little things, after all, and yet it was only this mornin' they were fightin' like drunken shantymen. I often thought if they had had a baby in the house it might have softened them. Well, don't be settin' your hearts on this wee one, for her mother is not goin' to die, I don't think; though you never can tell about a woman when her man has gone back on her."

Outside the snow was still falling. The evergreen trees were bending with the weight of it, their branches hanging down like great white bears' paws. Christmas Eve surged forward with all its infectious gladness as the crowds of belated shoppers increased. The electric fans in the windows were hard pressed to keep back the shooting frost ferns, which threatened to hide the season's offerings. Handsome cutters, with beautiful robes thrown over the backs of the seats, stopped at the curb to let out hurrying shoppers; delivery boys on foot, on wheels, in wagons, loaded with parcels, hurried to the suburbs of the city, sometimes pausing to look in at uncurtained windows where happy families gathered around sparkling tables—families so happy over the arrival of guests that they forgot to draw the blinds and so allowed some of their happiness to overflow into the street. Rosy shaded lamps threw patches of radiance on the glistening snow. Christmas wreaths tied with satin streamers glowed deeply red against the windows. The pulse of the city was beating with laughter and sleighbells.

At the corner of Second Street and Jasper Avenue a congested street car stopped to let out a flock of little girls and boys on their way to the Christmas tree in the First Baptist Church. Certain of the little girls, with their curls protected from the falling snow by being tucked safely away under their toques, were carrying mysterious pasteboard boxes containing sashes and bows and wings for the fairies. Others of them were darkly hooded and masked, their identity and sex entirely unguessed, for were they not cast for the dreadful witches of Shadowland? Accompanying them was a liberal sprinkling of parents, mostly mothers, with a few self-conscious fathers who had the appearance of having been dragged out. The mothers had an air of very conscious unconcern, as if they did not know their little boys or girls were going to take a part that was bound to be the very best thing on the program.

The Salvation Army Citadel blazed with light and pulsed with activity, for the big supper, where all were welcome, was going on, and the odors of turkey and sage and onions, drifting out into the street, compelled the reluctant ones to go in.

At midnight, when the bells were ringing, the snow suddenly stopped in that abrupt Alberta way. The city's lights were so many and so bright against the deep India blue of the sky, it was hard to tell them from the stars, but high overhead was to be seen the North Star, beloved of all bewildered travellers. Now it twinkled and gleamed above all these scenes of good fellowship and merry-making with unmistakable approval. Into the uncurtained window of the Corbett's big room it peered with a deeper interest and kinder understanding, for it could see that the Winnipeg couch was drawn out from the wall to make it into a full-sized bed, and in it there slept the unperturbed young Lili with Rose Corbett on one side of her and Daniel Corbett on the other—her two new friends, who had covenanted in her presence and in the presence of each other to furnish her with shelter, care and sustenance in the event of her mother's death. Rose and Daniel Corbett—the underwriters!

CHAPTER XXII.

It was Christmas afternoon when Helmi awakened—Christmas afternoon, the very sound of which brings pictures of children playing with trains on living-room floors, satisfied with turkey and candy, starchy-eyed with presents, numb with surprises and joy. Christmas afternoon! Of all the spicy, perfumed, sparkling glorious afternoons of the year the most dazzling and glorious; not merely an afternoon or a day that can be marked on a calendar or divided into hours like other afternoons—not that at all. Christmas afternoon is an atmosphere, a perfume, a sensation, a feeling, a spiritual experience.

It was Christmas afternoon when Helmi awakened. Number 18 in the North Star Rooming House did not suggest festivity, with its bare, buff walls, dull gray paint, elm dresser, iron bed, bare floor, with one strip of Japanese matting worn in the middle down to the threads. But Helmi was not left entirely without some gleam of Christmas, for Rose and Danny who were going to the Salvation Army Cantata that night, went singing down the hall:

"Away in a manger, no crib for a bed,

The little Lord Jesus laid down His sweet head," and it brought to Helmi's mind the Christmas story; and because her own heart was more tender than it had ever been, owing to the rise and fall of the little white veil which covered Lili's face, she loved the little Christ Child more than ever, and thought of Him and His pale mother as they lay there in the manger with the noise of cattle all around them.

"The stars in the sky looked down where He lay,
The little Lord Jesus, asleep on the hay."

Rosie, just outside the door, was singing as she 'did' the linoleum in the hall with dustless mop; Danny was working farther down the hall.

Helmi was awakened from her dream by the entrance of a little man with a slender black bag in his hand. He came in without knocking, and stood at the bottom of the bed regarding her critically. Before he could frame a question Mrs. Corbett had arrived, having seen the Doctor's car at the front door.

Mrs. Russell, who lived in No. 16 and did the cleaning in the City Hall, and therefore knew something of the correct forms of procedure, had notified the Department of the happening in No. 18. Dr. Symond came over at once. No one likes to be disturbed on Christmas afternoon, when the delicious sizzle of a turkey pulsates in the atmosphere of the house and one has just helped to put two leaves in the dining-room table. Dr. Symond was prepared to be quite stern. Indeed, as a representative of the city authorities how could he help being stern with these unregulated young women who leave their babies on the steps of the City Hall, so to speak. It was becoming entirely too common, and the Property Owners' Association at their last meeting were complaining about it; properly so, too, for they were the people who had to pay the bills. Everyone when in need rushed to the City—widows looking for help—unemployed—homeless—unfortunate girls—all come to the City.

THE BABY TEETH

How many should there be? "Ten little fingers and ten little toes"—making twenty in all—and there you have their number. Easy to remember isn't it?

And when should you begin to look for them? About the sixth or seventh month.

And which comes first? As a rule, the lower front teeth, the central incisor.

So after all baby's fretfulness he has a brand new tooth or two, so white and so sound they look, that you never give a thought to future tooth troubles.

Then the other eighteen or nineteen white coated little "milk teeth" will follow at somewhat regular intervals until Sonny is two years old, when he should have his full temporary set.

These are the temporary or deciduous teeth, being known also as the "milk teeth," from which you will be aware, of course, that they won't be retained right through adult age. They should all remain in place, however, until about the seventh year, when, through the natural process of shedding, they commence to be lost.

Then as the time approaches for the eruption of the second set, unless the first teeth are sufficiently separated in front to allow one or two thicknesses of blotting paper between them, the arches have not properly expanded and the second set is certain to be crowded and irregular. In such a case, the family dentist should always be consulted.

Since Sonny is going to lose these small teeth in good time and get a nice new set, why bother to care for them?

Well, little Sonny does not want a tooth-ache any more than do you, and for several other good reasons of which more to follow.

Little Helps For This Week

"Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."—Rev. ii. 10.

Why should our spirits be oppressed When days of darkness fall? Our Father knoweth what is best, And He hath made them all.

He made them, and to all their length Sets parallels of gain; We gather from our pain the strength To rise above our pain.

—Alice Cary.

God, who in mercy and wisdom governs the world, would never have suffered so many sadnesses, and have sent them especially to the most virtuous and wisest men, but that He intends they should be the seminary of comfort, the nursery of virtue, the exercise of wisdom, the trial of patience, the venturing for a crown, and the crown of glory.—Jeremy Taylor.

Nothing Like It to Relieve Colds

In formula and action, Buckley's Mixture is different from all other remedies. It literally "acts like a flash" in conquering coughs and healing the inflamed parts. The instant relief that follows the first dose is multiplied 40 times in a 75-cent bottle! "Buckley's" should be in every home. Your druggist sells it under a money-back guarantee. W. K. Editorial.

If there is a piece of sidewalk in a worse condition than that in front of the Pioneer office, it has yet to reveal itself.

This particular piece extends for about half a block, and is in such a deplorable condition that a lady was observed the other day trying to escape it by climbing the fence.

Speaking of it to a passer-by, we were met with the rejoinder, "Why don't you mention it in the Pioneer."

Happy thought! S'death! Isn't the pen mightier than the sword.

This little home journal of ours was asked the other day to request the householders of Didsbury to prepare for the annual clean-up.

This is very much like mother asking her "daily delight" to clean his unwashed neck.

Each year the same old problems and each year the same disinclination.

Probably it is because most of us are boys yet, and still need our mother's admonition and strong-arm methods.

Really, however, to our mind nothing looks more cheerfully domestic than to see the man of the house, overalls turned up, a shovel in his sturdy grasp, and with his loving wife throwing words of encouragement, steadily but surely reaching to the bottom of the pile.

"Reward," said a speaker in Didsbury recently, "comes by achievement," and surely the annual clean-up can be classed as such.

It is more than an achievement. It is a blessing—as the passer-by will affirm.

And then, boys when the bottom is reached? "Ain't it a grand and glorious feeling!"

And now, as we stated before, we repeat—that sidewalk really is deplorable.

MAIL-ORDER BUYING DECLINES

Merchants in every town and village in Canada have suffered for years from the competition of mail order houses in the large centres. How to effectively meet it has proved a problem not easily solved. Experiments of many kinds have been made, but only limited success and discouragement have attended the efforts of the promoters until lately.

Reports now show evidence of a definite turn in the tide. Some merchants have found a way to meet mail order competition and there has recently grown up a desire of the rural population to go to town to do their buying instead of through mail order catalogues.

One of Canada's largest mail order houses has found it necessary to revolutionize their entire mail order system, so widespread has home-town buying become. This particular house has, in face, curtailed their mail-order efforts in order to concentrate upon selling methods calculated to make good their lost mail order trade.

To the general use of the automobile by rural dwellers is attributed one of the principal reasons for the change. Another reason, related to the first, is in the ability of the small town merchant to offer goods of equal or better value than the mail-order houses. This is made possible by the banding of small merchants in the purchase of goods in sufficient quantities to secure them at minimum prices.

Modern and aggressive methods of merchandising by the small merchants is contributing to the change taking place—a change of considerable importance to the town printer and publisher, who prospers in proportion to the prosperity of the merchants. Although the centre of the movement appears to be in Western Ontario, there is not much doubt about it spreading throughout the Dominion.—Printer and Publisher.

LOCAL & GENERAL

K. R. McLean, R.O., Sight Specialist, 212 Herald Bldg., Calgary, will make his monthly visit to Didsbury on Saturday, May 5th. Office adjoining Dr. Evans. Phone 113, evenings, for appointments.

Knox United Choir are planning a concert to be held at the end of the month. Proceeds to be used for the purchase of new anthems. Further particulars next week.

The Community Hall School Fair program will be held on April 20th at the Community Hall. Six schools will contribute. Dr. Grisdale of Olds will deliver an address. Students of Olds School of Agriculture will assist in the program.

Adshead's Garage reports the sale of a touring car to Peter Vogel; Chev. sedans to H. Walsh and Ed. Liesemer, and a coupe to E. Cowitz.

A few of the executive of the Didsbury and District Old-Timers' Association had a meeting on Saturday afternoon last, but owing to the few that were present the discussion was confined to a few minor details. The secretary (Theo. Reist) requests that anyone who has been in the district twenty-five or more years to please send him any historical data which they may have in their possession. A canvass for membership will be made shortly.

On Saturday, at the Opera House, "Black Diamond Express" will be shown, featuring Monty Blue.

Several complaints have been made during the past week of householders losing wearing apparel from off the clothes line, and it would consequently appear to be advisable in future to clear the line before darkness sets in. In one instance the disappearance of clothing was noted at about 8:30 p.m. Thefts of this nature are particularly annoying, and it is to be hoped that the culprit may soon be discovered.

Knox United Choir are planning a concert to be held at the end of the month. Proceeds to be used for the purchase of new anthems. Further particulars next week.

The "Moon of Israel," shown by Mr. W. Sharp at the Opera House on Tuesday night for the benefit of the Didsbury Hospital, was very much enjoyed by those present. A fair attendance was recorded, but considering the object for which the show was held a much larger number could have been very easily accommodated. This has now become an annual event with Mr. Sharp, and the expense he is put to in connection is surely worthy of all the support that can be tendered.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pearson returned last Saturday from a three months visit with relatives in California.

The sale of home-cooking, needle-work, etc., by the ladies of the United Church last Saturday was very successful. If the rapidity with which the cakes and pies were disposed of is an indication of the reputation enjoyed by them, then the ladies of the above church can consider themselves well established.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride in Calgary on Saturday last, when Miss Towers was united in marriage to Mr. Russell McCoy of Carstairs, the Rev. Mr. Ing of Carstairs officiating at the ceremony. The bride was assisted by her sister Miss Louise Towers, whilst Walter McCoy acted as best man. The room in which the event took place had been very prettily decorated for the occasion, the nuptial knot being tied under an exquisitely decorated archway. The guests numbered about thirty-five of whom Miss Owen, Miss Clemens and Mrs. Sendall attended as friends of the bride from Didsbury. Immediately after the ceremony the guests sat down to a delicious lunch.

The newly-married couple, it is understood, will take up their residence at Carstairs.

Previous to her marriage on Saturday, Mrs. McCoy, as matron of the Didsbury hospital, had for three years performed her onerous duties most commendably, her assiduous care and skilful treatment being highly regarded and appreciated by both the medical and nursing staff.

The many patients, too, who have passed through her hands have almost without exception been warmly appreciative of the kindness and attention bestowed upon them. Mr. Russell McCoy is a lucky man, and both to him and his bride the good wishes of a large number of Didsbury friends are offered for a very happy and extended married life.

Snell and Carter, Registered Optometrists and Sight Specialists, have opened an office in the Hub Grocery where they will visit regularly. Their next visit will be on Wednesday, April 18th. Phone 42 for appointments.

In addition to those mentioned on our first page as having given orders for pheasant eggs, we now have to include Cecil Adshead and

Frank Moyle. One or two others have also signified their intention to help the work along, and there is a good prospect now that instead of one hundred eggs being ordered it will likely have to be three hundred.

Wheat Pool Concerned.

Germination tests of wheat which has been threshed this spring prove that the vitality has been badly damaged. If there is a widespread planting of this spring threshed wheat disastrous results will follow. The directors of the Alberta Wheat Pool are greatly concerned over this menace and urge farmers to have their seed tested for germination.

"Ben-Hur" Film Recalls Sto.'s Fame as Novel.

Only Book That Has Ever Approached Circulation of the Bible.

The long awaited Metro-Goldwyn Mayer screen version of "Ben-Hur" which has been three years in the making, recalls some of the historical and interesting facts about this immortal story by General Lew Wallace.

For forty-five years "Ben-Hur" has been a best seller and is said to have reached a circulation as large as the Bible. The novel was first published in 1880 following five years of study and research by General Wallace. One of the most unusual facts about this book is that it is the only book of fiction to be blessed by the Holy See. "Ben-Hur" was ordered translated into Italian and then blessed by Pope Leo XIII. "Ben-Hur" was translated into the Arabic, being the first return of the Aryan world for the literary treasure of the Thousand Arabian Nights.

"Ben-Hur" will be shown here in Didsbury on Monday and Tuesday of next week, April 16th and 17th. A matinee will be held on Tuesday at four p.m. and the evening performance will commence at 8.30 p.m.

As there will be no picture on Wednesday, the serial shown on this night will be given on Tuesday instead.

Queen Victoria is giving a vintage of the Empire to the 100th of last year known as the Queen's Farm Loan Act which gave the loans to farmers, whereby the Federal Government paid the bulk of the money, the provinces 50% and the borrower himself the remaining 5%.

This year's largest inflow of settlers destined for the west recently arrived on two of the liners of the Canadian Pacific fleet. There were 1082 on the Montserrat and 900 on the Melita, the majority being of British birth thereby establishing a record for any individual ship docking at the Maritime Province ports this year.

A recent revision of the Customs regulations now enables tourists to bring their sporting equipment or cameras into Canada without leaving a deposit on account of their dutiable value with the Canadian Customs officers at the border. At the present time the change in the regulations will effect particularly the Pacific Coast, where golf and spring sports are in full swing.

Vancouver.—Over 100 miles of trackage serving the ports of the Vancouver district will shortly have been laid by the Canadian Pacific Railway, according to a statement issued by the general superintendent of the district. The trackage is designed to take care of a steady and normal growth in trade through Vancouver and also to handle expansion in westward grain movement which this year has reached the record of 53,000,000 bushels.

John Walter, co-proprietor of the London Times with Major the Hon. J. J. Astor, arrived in Montreal lately where he addressed a gathering under the auspices of the National Council of Education. Mr. Walter is covering the Dominion over Canadian Pacific Railway lines and will make addresses in most of the larger cities. He is the fifth member of the family, being a direct descendant of the famous John Walter, to be guide of this newspaper since 1785.

On a long trip from Ontario to Brussels, Belgium, forty muskrats lately left Canada aboard the C. P. S. S. Marburn bound for Antwerp. The final destination of these animals is a farm near Brussels where they will form the nucleus of a muskrat farm. While handled by the Canadian Pacific Express Company during the entire voyage, the animals were fed two ounces of oats and four ounces of carrots daily with water once every two days.

Saskatoon.—"I believe I have found a wheat which, when further developed, will be greatly rust-resistant," said Dr. Seamer Wheeler, several times winner of the International wheat award. He went on to explain that although he was quite sure that this new type which he developed from the Klota strain would protect crops in the province from rust damage, he did not think that the wheat would be absolutely free from rust under all conditions. However, he considered from the results of his experiments that even under the worst conditions, such as those of 1927, this wheat would never materially be damaged.

Railway Construction in the West

Only a few years ago there was a feeling throughout Canada that the construction of railways in the Dominion had been rather overdone. This opinion was freely stated by many men in public life, by bank presidents and financiers, and found expression in newspapers all over the country. The statement was frequently made that Canada had built railways fifty years in advance of the time when they would be needed and the population and productive capacity of the country warranted. The greatest financial danger confronting the Dominion, it was alleged, was its heavy commitments on account of railways.

The fact that Canada possesses the greatest railway mileage per capita of any country in the world, and the further fact that a few years ago during the war the Canadian Northern, Grand Trunk and Grand Trunk Pacific Railways got into financial difficulties and had to be taken over by the Dominion Government, and that for some years, following during the post-war depression the Canadian National was operated at a heavy financial loss, no doubt accounted for these rather pessimistic views. An entirely different opinion exists today.

When the C.P.R. was first projected the same faint-hearted views prevailed. The idea of a transcontinental railway across Canada from the Atlantic to the Pacific, crossing thousands of miles of undeveloped prairie land and over the Rocky Mountains, was ridiculed in the English press as the dream of madmen, and even in Canada it was predicted that such a railway would never earn the cost of its axle grease. The world realizes today how false all these dire predictions have proven to be.

The opinions expressed only a few years ago during the anxious days of the war and the world depression which followed are proving to be equally erroneous.

In a most instructive address before the Canadian Club at Regina recently, Mr. Cyril Young, of the Industrial Development Department of the Canadian National Railways, stated that for hundreds of miles along the main line of the new transcontinental, through the clay belt of Ontario, the railway was earning an operating surplus, while bringing about settlement and building up important industries, giving to Canada what heretofore it has lacked, depth in addition to its immense width.

In the past, Canada has boasted of its boundaries resting upon two oceans, east and west. Now, with the rapid pushing forward of the Hudson Bay Railway, Canada looks forward with eager anticipation and confidence to the day not far distant when its commerce will likewise pass through a third ocean on the north. And even before that railway is completed to tide-water, a branch line is being rushed to completion in order to handle the enormous traffic which will result from the development of the Flin Flon and other mining areas of the north which, it is predicted, will rival the richest mineral areas in the known world.

Today, instead of believing that railway construction has been overdone in Canada, the two great railway systems of the Dominion are steadily increasing their construction programmes. Last year Parliament authorized an extensive branch lines construction programme for the Canadian National, largely in Western Canada, and providing for the building within three years of some hundreds of miles of new railways. That work, which was started last year, is to be pushed with vigor during 1928.

Nor does the C.P.R. lag behind. The annual report of that Company issued last month records the fact that during 1927 no less than 203 miles of new branch lines were graded and track laid on 170 miles, while for the year 1928 the directors recommend the building of no less than eleven extensions in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan involving the construction of an additional 247 miles of new lines.

Not to be outdone by the West, the Ontario Government is steadily pushing its system northward towards Hudson Bay, while branch feeders are spreading out into districts where mining developments are taking place.

The Government at Ottawa is confronted with applications for new railway charters for lines in northern Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia aggregating thousands of miles with a view to providing for the opening up and development of the north country and the creation of new outlets to the Pacific.

These are the answers now being given to those who predicted disaster for Canada on account of its railway construction of a few short years ago. Take Saskatchewan as an example. Youngest among the provinces it already enjoys a railway mileage second only to that of Ontario, and during this year of 1928 work will be in progress upon approximately 500 miles of new branch lines, not including the Hudson Bay Railway and the Flin Flon branch, both of which will directly serve the Province.

And as if to provide the final answer to the faint hearted of a few years ago, the Canadian National has turned its operating deficits into substantial operating surpluses, surpluses sufficiently large to meet all the interest payments on bonds and debentures held by the public, while, through the encouragement given to settlement and industrial development all over the country, the Federal Government is receiving a substantial, albeit indirect, return for the money Canada has invested in that system.

Railway development, past, present, and future, is the foundation upon which Canadians are erecting a strong, prosperous, and ultimately self-contained nation, a nation that is destined to occupy a place in the very front rank of world powers.

Acid Stomach

Excess acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention. One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. It is harmless and tasteless and its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, never continue to suffer, when you learn how quickly, how pleasantly this premier method acts. Please let it show you—now. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

The 1929 annual convention of the Western Canada Livestock Union, will be held in Edmonton, it was decided at the recent session of this organization, which was held in Vancouver. R. A. Wright, of Drinkwater, Saskatchewan, has been re-elected president of the organization for the coming year, J. L. Walters, of Clive, is the provincial vice-president for Alberta, Olaf Olafson, of Mortlach, occupies the same position for Saskatchewan, and George Gordon, of Oak Lake, for Manitoba. C. M. Learmonth, of Regina, continues as secretary of the Union for 1928.

Growth Of Catholic Church

Catholics In United States Now Total Nearly Twenty Million

There are 19,689,409 Catholics in the United States, the official Catholic directory for 1928 shows. This is an increase of 205,753 over last year.

The total of Catholic churches in the U.S. was listed at 16,293, with 25,773 priests. Of the latter, four are cardinal-archbishops, thirteen archbishops, and 91 bishops.

A SPRING TONIC

AN AID TO HEALTH

You Can Lay the Foundation Of Good Health Now By Building Up Your Blood and Strengthening Your Nerves Through the Use Of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The good old fashion of taking a tonic in the Springtime, like most of the customs of our grandparents, is based upon sound common sense and good medical practice. Winter is always a trying time for those who are not in rugged health. Many men, women and children go through the winter on reserve strength they have stored up during the sunny summer months, and grow increasingly pale and languid as the spring days approach. A tonic for the blood and nerves at this time will do much for such people, by putting color in the cheeks and banishing that tired feeling that worries thousands of people at this season of the year.

It is impossible to be energetic if your blood is thin and weak, or if your nerves are frayed or shattered. You cannot compete with others if you do not get refreshing sleep at night, or if your appetite is poor or you are losing weight. You need a tonic at this time to add to your efficiency now, as well as to save you from suffering later on. And in all the realm of medicine, there is no safer or better tonic than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills tone and enrich the blood which circulates through every portion of the body, strengthening faded nerves and run-down organs, and bringing a feeling of new strength and energy to weak, easily tired, despondent men, women and children.

Mrs. L. Hupman, Summerville Centre, N.S., writes:—"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of the greatest benefit to me. A few years ago I was in a badly run down condition. I became so weak and nervous that I could scarcely go about and doing my household work left me completely used up. Everything seemed to worry me, and I was in a very discouraged condition when I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon found the use I fully regained my health. Since then I always take a few boxes in the Spring to build me up for the hot weather, and always find the best results. I therefore cheerfully recommend these pills as the best of health builders.

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TRANSFIGURATION AND SERVICE

Golden Text: "He that abideth in Me, and I in him, the same beareth much fruit; for apart from Me ye can do nothing."—John 15:5.

Lesson: Mark 9:2-29.

Devotional Reading: John 15:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

The Transfiguration, verses 2-8. — Six days after Peter's expression of his conviction that Jesus is the Christ, Jesus took Peter, James, and John apart from the rest and ascended a high mountain where he was transfigured before them. The other disciples may have been too superstitious or too dull of comprehension for such a revelation of His glory.

"The longer we live the more profoundly we believe that no one has actually more than two or three friends. He is a friend—and only he—to whom you can lay bare your heart without the pledge of secrecy. The real friend is interested in you—your joys, your triumphs, your failures become his very own."

Luke 9:20 says that the fashion of His countenance was altered; Matthew 17:2 says "His face did shine as the sun," "the glory of the Godhead burst through the veil of the flesh." "It was not a splendour that fell on Him from without, and lighted Him up; the glory came from within; it corresponded to something going on in His mind."—Davidson. It was as He prayed, Matthew and Luke tell us, that this transformation took place. The story is preceded and followed in the Gospels by Christ's predictions of suffering, death, and resurrection. The Transfiguration was a preparation for the events so near at hand.

"On that mountain, He laid Himself like another Isaac on the altar, and he knew that the sacrifice would be demanded. The very glory of the event contains a hint of the struggle which had been going on in His mind. He was no impassive hero of a romantic history; He was a Soul in the agony of a momentous spiritual transaction. The hour had come when He was to make a voluntary dedication of Himself for a sacrifice than which history knows no sublimer; and the self-consecration was destined to be met by a distinct communication of divine approval. As He was praying about His Passion he entered into the ecstasy of oneness with the heavenly Father; in the heart of Jesus all the holy resolutions of a lifetime were encouraged and strengthened, as the fashion of His countenance became changed."

YUKON ENTERS FEDERAL OLD AGE PENSION PLAN

Ottawa.—Yukon has entered the federal old-age pensions scheme. George I. MacLean, newly appointed gold commissioner of the Yukon Territory, has affixed his signature to an agreement with the Dominion Government to participate in the federal plan.

An order-in-council will shortly be passed by cabinet council, in accordance with the established procedure, authorizing Hon. Peter Heenan, minister of labor, to sign for the federal government.

Yukon Territory is the second to join in the federal old-age pensions scheme passed at the last sessions of the Dominion Parliament. Several months ago British Columbia, through Hon. A. M. Manson, provincial minister of labor, executed an agreement with Mr. Heenan along similar lines to that with Yukon.

Manitoba and Saskatchewan are now negotiating with Mr. Heenan; and it is probable that these two provinces will shortly also come under the federal plan. Legislation to enter into negotiations was recently passed by the legislatures of Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

The signature of Gold Commissioner MacLean was affixed under authority of an ordinance passed at the last session of the Yukon Legislature.

Edmonton.—A debenture issue of $3,000,000 will be made by the provincial treasurer at the beginning of May. It will be in part for refunding purposes, covering an item of $825,000 maturing June 1, and the balance will be used for general expenditure requirements of the government.

The exact terms and conditions of the issue have not yet been determined but in view of the fact that the Eastern money market is now favorably disposed, the treasury is looking for just about the best sale it has ever made.

A Great Aid To the West

Building Of Railways To Outlying Parts Proves Big Factor

Toronto.—"One of the greatest things the Liberal Government ever did was the building of railroads to outlying parts of the country, such as the Hudson's Bay Railway and new lines into the northern part of Western Canada," said C. R. McIntosh, M.P. for North Battleford, and proprietor of the North Battleford News, at a luncheon given by the Toronto Men's Liberal Association.

Years ago, he continued, Canadians flocked across the border, as there were no railroads in the back country. Today lines were being constructed and the result was that the country was filling up with good families from all over the world. Speaking of immigration, Mr. McIntosh said his district was populated by people from all parts of the world. "These people," he said, "who have toiled and labored to make homes for themselves must be given a place in the governing of our country. Otherwise in the future we will encounter trouble."

Commander Daniel Found Guilty

Sentenced To Dismissal From Ship With Severe Reprimand

Gibraltar.—The first court-martial growing out of the Royal Oak affair which has stirred the British navy ended with the conviction of Commander H. M. Daniel, on charges of conduct prejudicial to discipline.

The court, after deliberating one hour and ten minutes, found him guilty on all charges and sentenced him to dismissal from his ship and a severe reprimand. The sentence did not imply dismissal from the service and means that the commander will remain on half pay until it pleases the admiralty to appoint him to another ship or another post.

Baldwin May Have Another Term

Will Be Returned To Power At Next Election, It Is Predicted

Winnipeg.—The Baldwin Government will be returned to power at the next elections and the Liberal party will do better than it did last time, declared Sir Robert Horne, ex-chancellor of the exchequer in the British Parliament, who spent two hours in this city while en route east in the course of a tour of the Empire.

Sir Robert considered Premier Baldwin safe in being returned to power and the Liberal party, he thought, would be solid under Lloyd George. The latter, he said, was the only leader available.

Ontario Session Ends

1923 Session Of Ontario Legislature Prorogued With Usual Ceremonies

Toronto.—With the usual military pomp and traditional ceremony Lieutenant-Governor W. D. Ross formally prorogued the 1923 session of the Ontario legislature. Greeted on his arrival at the parliament buildings by a salute of booming guns, His Honor entered the legislative chamber sharp at three o'clock for the brief ceremony. The galleries were sparsely filled and many of the members had already dispersed to their homes. The desk of Alexander Stuart, M.L.A. for North Renfrew, who died on Sunday, was draped in a Union Jack surmounted with crepe.

Nineteen Nations Will Contribute To Work Of Conference

Washington.—When representatives of 19 nations gather in Leningrad next June, in an international conference on Arctic explorations, the United States may be one of them.

If so, it will mark the first time that the United States has participated side by side with a Russian delegation in such a conference and the first time this country had sent an official delegate to Russia since it became the Soviet of Socialist Republics.

The foreign affairs committee of the House of Representatives has voted favorably on a resolution which proposed U.S. participation in the International Society for the Exploration of the Arctic regions by airship.

Among the 19 nations who are expected to contribute to the work of the society are also Great Britain, France, Italy, Germany and Japan, Canada is not included.

Completing Highway In B.C.

Federal Government Agrees To Co-Operate In Construction Work

Revelstoke, B.C.—A start on the last link of the trans-Canada Highway between Revelstoke and Golden will be made early next month, according to Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Provincial Minister of Public Works.

According to the minister, the Dominion Government has agreed to co-operate in the construction of the highway around the Columbia River, and the work to be undertaken will commence at a point on the big bend North of here where work stopped at the beginning of winter.

Dr. Sutherland stated that the federal government cannot undertake the building of a road through Glacier National Park, but has offered to assist the province in building around the big bend. It is understood that Ottawa's contribution will approximate $1,000,000. The work to be undertaken this year will be extensive, it was stated, and may entail an expenditure of $225,000.

Recognition For Herman Trelle

Alberta Government Purchases Quarter Section Of Farm At Wembley

Edmonton.—Payment of a first installment in the purchase price of a quarter section of his farm at Wembley has been made to Herman Trelle, the Peace River wheat champion, through the department of public works. An appropriation of $5,000 was passed in the estimates for this province.

Under the terms of the agreement, the quarter-section is being leased to Mr. Trelle for a term of five years with the option of purchase at the end of that time. The land adjoins the remainder of his holdings, on which his prize-winning wheat was grown, and is itself under cultivation.

It is understood that Mr. Trelle will continue his experimental work in which he has already achieved such distinguished success, and the action of the government, which was fully sanctioned by the legislature, is by way of demonstrating a province's grateful recognition of services rendered and good publicity provided through a double championship.

Grant For Research

Placed At Disposal Of Canadian Society Of Technical Agriculturists

Ottawa.—A sum of $4,000 has been placed at the disposal of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists by the International Education Board of New York, founded by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in 1923, to be used in making a survey of graduate and research facilities available at Canadian agricultural colleges as in the Federal and Provincial Departments of Agriculture. A part of the money will be used in preparing and publishing a graduate calendar upon such a survey.

The C.S.T.A. has arranged for the release of Dr. Robert Newton, of the University of Alberta. He will undertake the survey in January, 1929.

NO CHANGE IN BRITISH POLICY TOWARD EGYPT

Manchester, Eng.—Sir William Joynson-Hicks, secretary of the home office, told the Cotton Spinners' Association that the latest Egyptian note would work no change in British policy. He said:

"It is true we have received a somewhat foolish despatch from the Egyptian Government. But I ask you to put your faith in His Majesty's government, and realize that this despatch will mean no change in British policy. A reply to the Egyptian Government will be made shortly."

Sir William also said that he looked forward to the time when Lancashire would be independent of the cotton supplies from the "great west" and would get all its cotton from the British Empire.

Cairo, Egypt.—Premier Nahas explained to Cairo newspaper representatives briefly, Egypt's position with regard to Great Britain.

"In our note to Great Britain," he said, "we have striven on the one side to uphold our country's rights, and on the other to maintain unimpaired our friendly relations with Great Britain."

The note in question was Egypt's rejoinder to the British Government's latest note on the rejection by Egypt of the proposed treaty.

In his explanation the premier dealt solely with Egypt's rejection of the British claim to the right of interference with Egyptian legislation and with Egypt's ability unaided to protect foreigners. Nahas laid stress on his desire to prepare the way for "real friendship."

Church Announcements

Evangelical Notes

All the Services including Palm Sunday and Good Friday were well attended. This good interest was further manifested by a special "Self-Denial" Easter offering for foreign Missions which even surpassed our highest expectations.

The Senior League of Christian Endeavour has recently swelled its membership by more than 50 per cent. A short helpful, inspiring League meeting is held every Sunday evening after the preaching service. "Crusade with Christ" is the general theme of the program for 1928.

United Church

Rev. A. E. Hayes, B.A., Minister.

2.30 p.m. Westcott.
7.30 p.m. Didsbury.

The minister announced last Sunday, that the theme for Sunday, April 15th, would be the "Art of Friendship." Studying the art of friendship is very much the same thing as studying practical Christianity. Perhaps we may want to mix freely with others, and go towards them in friendship but find ourselves held back by shyness. Many would say that it is the plague of their lives. What does psychology say concerning shyness? You will be surprised to know. The minister will speak on the dangers of friendship and the Friend of failures.

More than twenty Walther Leaguers and friends met at the home Mrs. F. Folkmann on Palm Sunday evening tendering a reception to the confirmands of the present year. Judging from the remarks made a pleasant evening was enjoyed by all.

Didsbury's increased attendance is very encouraging.

Speaking of the reinstallation of Peter into the apostolic office, the pastor in Sunday's address will present the Saviour's question: "Lovest Thou Me?" This applies not to Peter merely, but to each who like Peter would be a disciple. What answer will we give?

SWEET CLOVER IS EXCELLENT FODDER FOR CATTLE

CONCORD, N.H., April 9.—An experiment in scientific dairy farming which appears to have proven not only practical but very profitable, is reported by A. B. Hough, of Lebanon, N.H. Mr. Hough has a herd of 25 cows. By planting five acres of sweet clover he found that he saved $35 in one month on his grain bill and secured 1,000 pounds more milk.

Mr. Hough's experiment with sweet clover convinced him that among other advantages he saved the labor and expense of cutting green feed every day. His experience has convinced seven other Lebanon farmers that they should plant a similar crop next year.

His figures are for the month of August in 1926 and 1927. During the earlier year, when he planted no clover, his grain bill was $94, whereas a year later it was $57. In the former case his feed cost per hundred-weight of milk was $1.15, and in the latter, only $1.

NEW SUGAR MADE FROM ARTICHOKE

Experiments now being carried on at Washington by the bureau of standards in development of a sugar substitute made from the Jerusalem artichoke promise to make the United States independent of foreign nations for its sugar supply, according to Dr. Frederick J. Bates of the bureau's sugar division.

Considerable replacement of ordinary sugar consumption and the establishment of a new American industry, manufacture of artichoke sugar, may be the ultimate results of the work being conducted by bureau sugar experts, Bates said.

Sugar made from the plant, which grows readily in this country, is said by scientists to be superior to ordinary granulated sugar. For one thing, levulose, as the new sugar is known, is one and a half times sweeter than cane or beet sugar.

Other important advantages of lev-

Until recently levulose sold for as high as a dollar a pound. The bureau, however, now has discovered a method of manufacturing it at a reasonable cost.

RE-ORGANIZATION OF BASEBALL LEAGUE

A well-attended meeting of baseball enthusiasts took place in Didsbury on Wednesday evening of last week.

Resulting from the discussion, Earl Freeman, of Innisfail, was elected president of the Rosebud Amateur Baseball League; Mr. R. Maybank, of Olds, the retiring president, was elected hon. president, and

L. W. Askin, of Olds, vice-president. C. R. Riley was re-elected sec-treas.

Two delegates from each team will act on the executive. After much discussing regarding the general interest of the Rosebud League, the stage is all set for the 1928 season. Five teams compose the League, viz., Carstairs, Didsbury, Olds, Bowden and Crossfield. An invitation was extended to each town to enter the Olds 24th of May tournament and it is expected that the five teams will enter for the big day. Carstairs was not represented at the meeting. Messrs. F. Kirkham and Foster voted for Innisfail; Reiber and Johnson for Didsbury; Hepworth and Henderson for Bowden, and Dr. C. Mann and L. W. Askin for Olds.

Cliff Bellamy recently purchased a Gray-Dort which he later converted into a motor truck. After being delcated at Adshead's Garage the truck looks the real thing now and has been very favorably commented upon.
